

Uses

ID	1,103
Crop ID	Finger Root
Part	Root
Use Category	Medicinal
Notes	The root and root-bark have a widespread reputation in traditional medicine in Africa. The plant has been shown to contain several medically active compounds - the root bark yields an oleo-resin; alkaloids are present in small amount in the roots; tannins have been recorded as present but saponins have been recorded as absent
Metadata ID	2,180